Resorts World Cruises Partners with GaiGai and Lunch Actually to Present Sea of Connections: An Unmatched Singles Cruise Experience

(Singapore, 21 October 2024) Resorts World Cruises in collaboration with GaiGai and Lunch Actually, Singapore's premier matchmaking platform, is proud to announce Sea of Connections, a one-of-a-kind singles cruise designed for those seeking new connections. This special event, set aboard the opulent Genting Dream cruise ship will depart Singapore from 10 – 12 November 2024 for RWC's maiden 2 Night Melaka Cruise, redefining matchmaking by combining cruise vacations, curated experiences, and human connection.

In an era dominated by dating apps and digital swipes, Sea of Connections stands out by offering a return to genuine, face-to-face interactions. This isn't just a cruise vacation; it's a thoughtful exploration of what it means to truly connect. Set against the stunning backdrop of the open sea, participants are invited to step into an atmosphere where shared experiences, like themed challenges and exclusive mixers, become the catalyst for lasting bonds.

"At Resorts World Cruises, we believe in creating unique cruise experiences that leave lasting memories for our guests," said Mr. Michael Goh, President of Resorts World Cruises. "Sea of Connections is a perfect example of how cruise vacations can enhance personal experiences, providing new and exciting opportunities to make authentic connections and discover new experiences on the Genting Dream," he added.

A Journey Beyond Dating

The event offers more than just romance—it taps into the psychology of human attraction and shared adventure. By designing icebreakers and group activities that encourage collaboration and open conversation, Resorts World Cruises, GaiGai and Lunch Actually are creating a framework that moves beyond typical matchmaking.

“At Lunch Actually Paktor Group, we understand that today’s singles crave more than surface-level interactions. They want experiences that foster real connection, and that’s exactly what we’ve created with Sea of Connections. The Genting Dream provides the perfect luxurious backdrop for our participants to explore new relationships in an organic way,” said Alex Tam, CEO of GaiGai.

Whether participants are enjoying a champagne-fueled Gala Night or participating in activities tailored to different personality types (Twilights, Sun Warriors, Scholars), every aspect of the itinerary is crafted to build trust and familiarity. Through curated experiences, the event redefines connection in a world where many feel increasingly disconnected.

Event Highlights:

- Gala Night under the stars with champagne and networking
- Curated icebreakers and challenges promoting real connections
- Access to premium venues like bowling alleys and Zouk

Shifting the Matchmaking Paradigm

This event isn't just a one-off experience—it's a response to the societal demand for more genuine human interaction. Sea of Connections represents a departure from algorithm-driven matchmaking and a shift towards human-first, experience-led connection, setting the tone for future dating experiences that combine the luxury of travel with the authenticity of face-to-face communication.

"We're proud to partner with Resorts World Cruises, a company that shares our vision for creating exceptional experiences. Together, we've crafted an event that not only allows people to meet but provides them the right atmosphere to truly connect," added Tam.
